

NHD Process Paper

Sitting Bull was a great Indian chief for the Standing Rock Sioux tribe and led them into many victorious battles including the Battle of Little Bighorn and the Red Cloud's War, he was also in Buffalo Bill's Wild West Show. Sadly he was captured and then later killed by the Indian Police.

In our NHD project I used many sources to find my research. To find most of our research we had to use multiple websites, not just one. One good useful source was the Library of Congress. Their website help us a lot with finding our pictures, we found about half of our pictures from that website. Another helpful source was our book source, "Sitting Bull: The Life and Times of an American Patriot". This book gave us a lot of information about our topics life and all of the events that occurred throughout our topic/person's life. The author Robert M. Utley really thoroughly explained how our topic is important to America's history.

The only problem that I mainly had a problem with was finding a contact source and conducting an interview. I tried many websites to find a contact source and it took a very long time to find one.

I am going to tell the story of Sitting Bull by going off of the Create the Story graphic organizer and then go from there. We will start with his lows and then start building up to his highs. We will tell how he helped his tribe and won many wars against other tribes.

The story relates to Triumphant Tragedy by Sitting Bull getting captured by the Indian Police and then getting killed later on. The triumph is that Sitting Bull was the commander of the indians in the Battle of Little Bighorn. The tragedy is that Sitting Bull was killed trying to save his tribe and defending his rights. Another tragedy is that he was a great chief and then ended up working carnivals and becoming an alcoholic.
